Depot 'Surplus' --Or New Role? --In 15 Months

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

The once bustling Granite City Army Depot will come to a quiet end without fanfare on Wednesday, June 30, after serving and providing for 27 years.

The primary missions of supply and maintenance along with manpower, have departed for other installations, mostly to the Toolee Army Depot at Ogden, Utah, and also to depots in Pennsylvania and Atlanta, Ga.

An area support mission will remain in operation at the Granite City facility and is being reorganized as part of the Army Aviation Systems Command (Avscom).

About 200 civilian personnel will remain on duty here, in addition to some military personnel, according to Mrs. Mary J. Frank, civilian personnel director.

"Another Working Day"

The closing day, ordered by the Department of Defense, "will be just another working day," Major William Mills, deputy commanding officer, told the Press-Record yesterday.

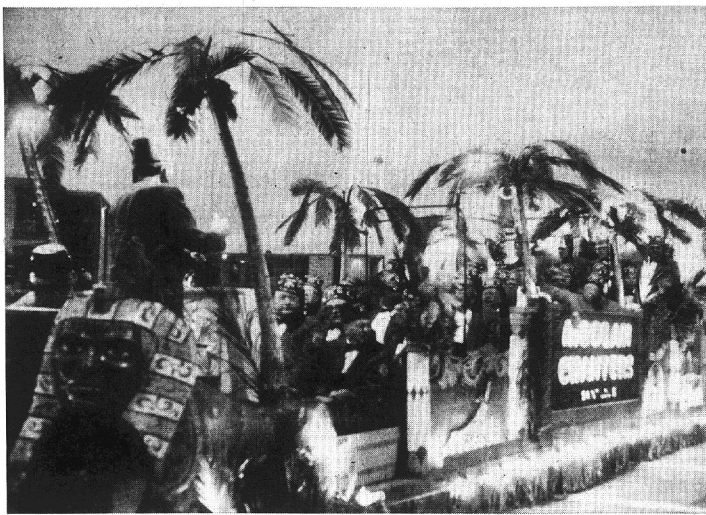

The remaining unit will provide about 22 area support services to the depot, other military offices and military and civilian customers, Major Mills added.

Included are family housing, commissary, station supply, a chaplain, community services, certain accounting functions, procurement, special services, officer and non-commissioned messes and household goods.

The Army Department will retain jurisdiction of the 977-acre facility for 15 months according to requirements on base closures, the deputy commander said.

The installation is being investigated for possible use by other departments of the federal government, and there are many questions still to be answered, Major Mills said, noting that in October 1972, following the 15-month caretaker period, the base could be declared as surplus.

The depot missions section will continue to operate 122 housing units in St. Louis and 64 at the depot. All are filled, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3.)

ARDELL SMITH Surrenders Man Sought in Death of Deputy Gives Self Up

Ardeall Smith Jr., 32, of 4734 Lake Drive, Box 7, was arraigned on a charge of murder Tuesday before Magistrate A. A. Bloomer at Belleville, after surrendering to the St. Clair County Sheriff's Office at 3:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Smith was sought as a suspect in the fatal shooting of St. Clair County Deputy Sheriff Loren Rehner in the warehouse of a Freeburg restaurant May 31.

The search for Smith had been conducted by the FBI, St. Clair and Madison county sheriff's departments and the Ponton Beach police department. His mobile home south of Ponton Beach exploded and burned Saturday night. Firemen suspected arson. State Fire Marshal Andrew Gasparovic Jr. is conducting an investigation.

Deputies declined to release details of Smith's surrender and would say only that he turned himself in at the county jail.

He was committed to jail without bond pending grand jury action.

Special School Voting July 10

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A second high school for Granite City moved one step closer to reality Monday night when the Granite City Board of Education set Saturday, July 10, as the referendum date on a proposal to build a new senior high building without approval of additional bonds or an increase in taxes.

The proposal calls for construction of a new high school on the Wein tract, a site adjacent to Maryville and Nameoki roads, to replace a previous plan authorized by voters Dec. 7, 1968, for building an elementary school and a junior high school at that location.

Building and equipping the new structure would be financed with funds obtained from the bonds approved by voters in December 1968. The new building, therefore, will not require additional bonds or an increase in taxes.

On Dec. 7, 1968, the Granite City electors approved $2,380,000 worth of bonds to construct and equip a junior high school; $788,000 to build and equip an elementary building; and $100,000 for land acquisition.

A total of $3,668,000 in bond moneys available will be combined with an estimated $289,000 in funds from a present 4-cent special education construction tax rate and with state funds provided for special education, Davis said.

To Use Special Funds

Clearing away another obstacle in securing sufficient funds for the high school construction project, the board members adopted a resolution Monday night which authorizes accumulation of funds from the 4-cent special education tax rate through 1975.

The special 4-cent rate, approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in September 1968, is expected to produce estimated revenue amounting to $84,000 this year and in 1972.

Estimated revenue from the state, calculated at $1,000 per professional worker, will produce $41,000 in 1971 and a total of $90,000 next year, the administrator explained.

Text of the official ballot to be submitted to voters July 10 and marked with a cross (X) opposite the word "YES" or "NO," reads:

"Shall the Board of Education of Community Unit School District No. 5, Madison County, Ill., build and equip a new senior high school north of Maryville Road between its intersection with Route 203 and Morrison Road instead of building and equipping a new elementary school?"

Four Killed in Traffic Crashes; 18 Others Hurt

Four persons were killed and 18 were injured in traffic accidents since Monday. Two of the victims, a Granite City man and his niece, died in a head-on collision in Missouri. Two others were killed in separate crashes in the Quad-City area.

The dead:

Charles Vidan, 50, of 2844 East 27th St.

Miss Lillian Petrovic, 30, of Paris, France, Mr. Vidan's niece who had been visiting with the family in Granite City.

Malcolm Bradley, 18, of 311 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres.

Philip W. Everett, 17, of 27th St.

Their deaths brought to seven the total number of traffic deaths occurring in the area, or involving area residents, during the month. It also brings to 26 the total number of traffic deaths so far this year, or four more than the total of 22 fatalities reported during all 12 months of last year.

In Missouri Crash

Mr. Vidan and his niece were killed in an accident near Springfield, Mo., at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Milveta Vidan, his wife who was driving the car, and their 14-year-old son, Michael, are in St. John's Hospital at Springfield, where the boy was reported critical today. Mrs. Vidan was in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer (Mabel) Woodall, each 70, of North Little Rock, Ark., also were killed in the head-on collision which occurred one-half mile north of junction Highway 65 and 14 in Christian County, Mo., eight miles south of Springfield.

State Police said the Woodall vehicle was northbound and attempting to pass another car when it collided with the southbound Vidan automobile.

The Vidan family with Miss Petrovic were on vacation en route to Silver Dollar City in the Missouri Ozarks.

Mr. Vidan, a native of Yugoslavia, had resided in this area since 1959. He was employed as an engineer for McDonnell Douglas Aircraft in St. Louis.

He is a member of Holy Trinity Serbian Orthodox Church in St. Louis and was active in Masonic bodies. He was in the Air Force Reserves.

He also is survived by another son, Walter Vidan, of Granite City. Mr. Vidan was (Continued on Page 10, col. 1)

Emission Standards Outlined at Hearing

Technical standards of emissions allowed under present Illinois statutes were being outlined today by Anton Telford, manager of the Region 4 Office, Environmental Protection Agency, as hearings continued at the city hall in Granite City into air pollution charges against Granite City Steel Co., brought by the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board.

Telford's qualifications to testify at the hearings were discussed at length by Herbert L. Caplan, assistant state attorney general, representing the Environmental Protection Agency, who called the EPA manager to the stand.

Earlier in today's session, testimony presented last week by Arthur Kuhlman, manager of plant operations at the steel firm, was reviewed by Caplan.

Kuhlman returned to the stand, under examination by Defense Attorney Randall E. Robertson, stressed that regular maintenance of coke oven doors was necessary to keep the equipment in working order. Methods of maintaining and sealing coke oven doors at the Blast Furnace plant to reduce leakage were described by Kuhlman at the previous session.

The hearing is to continue until 6:30 p.m. today and resume at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Boards Okay Steel Merger; Stockholders Vote July 29

The merger would involve the issuance of Granite City Steel common stockholders of 4445 shares of a share of National Steel Corp. for each one share of Granite City Steel common stock held.

Data relating to the merger has also been submitted to the U. S. Department of Justice for its review.

The record date for stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting is June 15.

The special meeting will be in the company's main office in Granite City. The proxy material contains full information on the merger proposal, which has been approved by the boards of directors of both companies.

Aerial Spraying In This Area to Begin Monday

Plans for aerial spraying of 1,800 acres of land to combat the Japanese beetle were announced today by Gordon L. Ropp, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

Ropp said the program, concentrated in the rural area between East St. Louis and Granite City, will get under way June 21, weather permitting, and will involve the use of Sevin a non-persistent insecticide.

Precautions are being taken, Ropp said, "including notification of every keeper of bees and all residents in the area as to when and how the spraying will be conducted."

Japanese beetle grubs feed on the roots and underground stems of plants, particularly grasses. Often, the feeding is unnoticed until the plants die.

Adult Japanese beetles feed on more than 275 different plants, he said.

"The Japanese beetle has not spread to the vegetable-producing areas here but there are beetles in other crops in the area," Ropp said.

The spray program, which has been approved by the Illinois Interagency Committee on the Use of Pesticides, is a cooperative effort of the state agriculture department's division of plant industry and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plant protection division.

Macios Off Air Board To Avoid a Dual Role

Theodore W. Macios, vice-chairman of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, has resigned the position to avoid a conflict of interest.

Macios is a partner in Quality Environmental Consultants, a firm hired by the local board to assist Professor Erwin C. Hoelscher, board technical secretary, with testing and analysis of air pollution samples.

The St. Louis consulting firm of Ryckman, Edgerley, Tomlinson & Associates had been assisting Hoelscher but its services were discontinued because high overhead and travel time costs for the services were more than double the expense the board was willing to pay, according to Henry S. Bienenick, board chairman.

Macios' firm was hired by the city council and Macios resigned on advice of City Attorney who held his position on the board would pose a conflict of interest.

The board met Monday evening at City Hall to discuss the $26,000 federal grant application now awaiting approval of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Bienenick said Dr. John Roberts, manager of the Illinois Bureau of Air Pollution Control, has approved the grant in basic form but that several minor changes will be needed before full approval is granted.

Needs Federal Approval
After Roberts approves the document, it must be approved by William Blazer, director of the state EPA and by federal pollution control authorities, Bienenick reported.

Bienenick said that a meeting between members of the local board and the EPA will be necessary before the grant can be made.

Returns From DUV Convention

Mrs. Augusta Munsterman, 1721 Primrose Ave., returned Monday from Chicago where she attended the district convention of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

At the four-day conference, which concluded Sunday at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel, Chicago, Mrs. Munsterman represented DUV Tent 90 of Granite City. Another local delegate was Mrs. Louise Thompson of DUV Tent 92.

Enroute home, Mrs. Munsterman visited relatives and friends in Streator, Ill., including her brother, W. M. Mitchell.

tary school and junior high school as authorized by vote of the electors on December 7, 1968, with funds obtained by issue of bonds authorized by vote of the electors on December 7, 1968, and without the use of additional bonds or the levy of additional taxes.

Voters in the special election may cast ballots between the hours of noon and 7 p.m. July 10, at polling places designated for the election precinct within which they reside. Fifteen polling places were authorized.

Board members agreed to pay election judges $15 each, plus furnishing an evening meal, and decided to forego the usual bidding procedures in securing special election ballots. The latest action was taken due to proximity of the election date—only one month away.

Prestige Printing Co. was selected to print the ballot. School administrators, however, were given permission to choose another vendor if the firm cannot meet the necessary time requirements.

Estimated cost of constructing high school on the Wein site is $3,600,000, according to figures contained in an architect's study previously reviewed by the board.

The district's estimated cost of constructing the four-year secondary school was $3,238,750. Included in both totals are $150,000 for equipment and $211,250 architectural fees.

$3.8 Million Available
Supt. Davis said approximately $3,600,000 will be available from bond issue monies, plus an estimated $168,000 from the 4-cent rate collected in 1971 and 1972 and $91,000 in state funds would provide a total of $3,859,000 to construct and equip the building.

Under the second high school proposal, the new building would have a general industrial shop class area, but a complete vocational department would be eliminated at the present time.

Some physical education and music facilities also would be incomplete at the outset. Plans would enable their inclusion at a later date, it was explained.

Initially, the Wein property was designated for a combined elementary and junior high school in conversion to a high school campus in the late 1970s.

It was based on this proposal that voters approved the bond issue.

Finding of a secondary-level redistricting study committee resulted in the board's decision to eliminate the intermediate step and establish a second high school as soon as it can be constructed.

Detailed plans and specifications for the junior high-elementary structure can be adapted to a high school building with little increase in costs, it was found.

Since the survey was conducted, a marked reduction has been noted in the growth pattern among pupils at the new and existing school sites, the study committee found.

Construction of the second high school also would allow designation of Coolidge, Prather and Grigsby Junior High schools in the Nameoki-Pontoon-Mitchell-Stallings areas would permit improved balance among pupils at the new and existing school sites, the study committee found.

Each had served four terms as mayor; each had dozens of local friends.

At the election on April 17, LeMasters received 1,509 votes and Kirkpatrick 1,966. LeMasters promptly contested the returns, asserting that illegal ballots had been counted for his opponent.

The ballots, poll books and tally sheets were impounded at Edwardsville. On June 14, following a recount which disclosed that many ballots marked for Kirkpatrick had been "tampered with," Judge Thomas Jett threw the case out of court.

Anticipating the labor shortage conscription would create, East St. Louis industrialists imported hundreds of Negroes in the spring of 1917. A Mexican colony simultaneously took root in Lincoln Place.

On May 11, 1917, the Press-Record reported:

"Large industries in East St. Louis have contracted for 5,000 during the next 30 days. Real estate dealers have been asked to build 2,000 cottages to house the newcomers, but they demurred.

"Most of the men who are employed at the steel foundries reside in St. Louis, Brooklyn or Newport. During the past few weeks, however, the number employed at the local foundries has been greatly increased.

"As the warm weather comes, on the Negro men are sleeping in boxcars and most anywhere they can find while they are not working or eating their meals in the plant restaurant.

"There were no clashes between white and Negro workers in Granite City but riots of intense ferocity occurred in East St. Louis on May 28 and July 2, 1917. Thomas Moor, a resident of Granite City, was killed in East St. Louis on the latter date—struck by a stray bullet as he waited for a homeward-bound street car.

The first men conscripted from Granite City, in the World War left for Camp Taylor, Ky., on the morning of Sept. 5, 1917. They were Fred W. Becker, Harry E. Calvert, Will R. Goltigly, Guy Livingston, Charles Smith, Reinhardt Spitzer and William Um.

Their departure went unmarked, but the group that followed on Sept. 28 was feted at dances, parties and receptions, culminating in a huge patriotic demonstration.

The Commercial Club presented each draftee with a "comfort kit" which contained a "large number of useful articles for camp life."

BY GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Another performance of the Shrine Circus is scheduled at 8 p.m. tonight in the City Speedway to make up for the first scheduled presentation which was rained out Tuesday afternoon.

After the final show tonight the performers will pack their equipment and the circus will move to Belleville for performances there Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Circus activities began here with the Ainad Temple Shrine parade Monday night in which 71 units marched from downtown Granite City to the Nameoki Village Shopping Center over Niedringhaus and Madison avenues and Nameoki Road.

The line of march was crowded with spectators ranging from toddlers to the elderly, all waiting expectantly for the first units to arrive.

The arrival of police cars and motorcycles heralded the start of the long-awaited event and the crowd rose to cheer as the Quad-City mayor and the auto carrying Parade Marshal Richard Ervay passed. They were followed by the Elks Club, Guard, band, patrol and officials and by the Scottish Rite.

Make Youngsters Happy

The children's smiles and yells of glee greeted the Madison Junior Service Club Clowns and the Ainad Krazy Klowns as small hands reached out for candy and balloons. The clowns were the first to meet the lucky children and talk to them, leaving the chosen youths with sparkling eyes and something to tell grandma and grandpa and friends after the parade.

The clowns were followed by the Madison Lions Club, Ainad hospital unit cars and the Ainad Original Band.

Then came the Granite City Rotary Club, the Ainad Rolling Nobles, the DAV Auxiliary and the Navy Mothers.

The Madison High School band marched by playing the school song, and were followed by the Collinsville Shrine Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Piasa Indians, the Ainad Compacts and Legion of Honor and the DeMolay Mothers Club.

The Ainad Drum corps and a Mercer ambulance completed the Ainad portion of the parade.

Nameoki Committee to Study Improvements

A 12-man "Citizens Improvement" Committee charged with mapping a program of public improvements in Nameoki township was appointed Monday night by Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell who created the committee by proclamation during the regular town board meeting. The committee appointments were confirmed by board members.

Whitsell said such a committee could accomplish much in improving conditions of public facilities and services throughout the township by making a study, followed by a report and recommendations to the town board, on a priority list of needed improvements. Such improvements could span all phases of town services, including road improvements, traffic control and health and safety factors, he said.

The supervisor appointed Michael Ropac as chairman of the committee. Named as members were David Moss, Elmer Sullivan, Robert Strackeljah, William Nichols, Albert Bell, Everett Feltmeyer, Gene Gargac, Joe Cohan, Harold Miller, Raymond Gaudette and Charles Luehman.

The town board approved the budget after a discussion of the budget figures, without objections, during the public hearing. Approval was given a proposal to amend the fiscal period of the highway department which, in previous years, did not coincide with the fiscal period of the town fund and general assistance fund.

The board approved a new fiscal period of April 1 to March 31 to coincide with the Other two township funds. Previously the highway department's fiscal period was Sept. 1 to Aug. 31.

Spalding Could Earn Point Lead In All Three Classes At Speedway Friday

Wib Spalding of Granite City may be the man to watch tomorrow night as he attempts to capture the track point leads in all three events of a special triple-header at the Tri-City Speedway.

The Tri-City Classic, a 50-lap late model stock car feature offering double points and a guaranteed purse of $1,000, will be run this week after having been postponed by rain last Friday night.

Joining the stocks will be the super sprints and the midjets.

Spalding Third
In the stock division, Spalding is third with 260 points, 30 shy of the champion Bobby Stanton. Louis Jansen is second with 270. If Spalding should win the feature, as he did two weeks ago here, he would earn 180 points and likely the point lead.

In the sprints, Spalding holds the third spot with 730 points as Bill Utz leads with 780 and Buddy Jones is second with 760. Utz is recovering from injuries suffered when his sprinter burned three weeks ago, at Jefferson City, Mo., and Jones has not raced since tearing several rib muscles in a midjet accident here two weeks ago. A sprint feature victory would give the Granite City driver 170 points and the lead unless Utz and Jones race and place high in the feature.

In the midjet division, Spalding will be chaffing the Gus Shorn Offenhausen midjet which is driven in a midjet class competition by Bruce Walkup and Gary Bettenhausen. Spalding was pushing for the lead in the midjet feature here two weeks ago when Logue Yount's car flipped several times in front of him and he became involved in a three-car mixup and the Offy was eliminated with a bent shaft. The mishap put him in 12th place in the point standings, but one feature victory could give him the lead.

Olympic Soccer Team Sets for Round Robin

The United States Olympic soccer squad will begin its quest for a spot in the 1972 games at Munich, Germany, early in July at Miami, Fla. The U. S. team is coached by Bob Guelker, who inaugurated the sport at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern four years ago.

The U. S. Olympic soccer team will play El Salvador on July 18 and in the Barbados one week later. Return games in the round-robin tourney will be played in August with the U. S. team meeting El Salvador on the 15th and in The Barbados on the 22nd.

Coach Guelker will assemble the U. S. players for drills July 11 at the University of Miami. They have been practicing regularly since their selection nearly a year ago. A series of games were played by the U. S. Olympic squad this spring in Los Angeles, Seattle, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

The winner of the round-robin competition at Miami, Guelker said, "will advance to the sectional finals where one team will be selected to play in the Olympic Games in Munich next year."

Following the first round of games at Miami, Guelker will lead the U. S. Olympic squad to the Pan-American Games to be held in Cali, Colombia, July 30-Aug. 12.

6 Prep Soccer Stars To Enroll At SIU-SW

Six more standout area high school soccer players have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern the Cougar Coach Bob Guelker has announced.

They are Joe Bono, a forward, Christian Brothers High; Steve Elliott, back, DeSmet High; Tim Watters, back, DeSmet High; Bob Kessen, forward, Rosary High; Joe Gallagher, forward, DeSmet High; and Ted O'Neill, back, Mercy High.

Prep South's Bill Barron and CBC's Paul Gentile announced that they were enrolling at SIU-SW last week.

Kessen and Watters were All-Missouri soccer choices for the past season, Kessen captained and led Rosary to the Missouri state championship last year.

PUSHING FOR POINT LEAD in the late model, midjet and super sprint divisions at Tri-City Speedway during tomorrow night's triple-header will be Wib Spalding of Granite City. Spalding has an excellent chance in the sprints and stocks and has an outside chance to capture the lead in the midjets. The special event will include the Tri-City Classic 50-lap late-model stock feature, with double points and a guaranteed $1,000 purse.

him the lead. Ronnie Taylor leads with 190 points for win ning the sole midjet event here, Duke Durosa is second with 150 and Larry Kirkpatrick is third with 140. Spalding has only 40 points but victory in the feature tomorrow would award 170 points and an outside shot at the lead.

Spalding will be driving the silver No. 90 midjet, the gold No. 56 sprinter and the yellow and black No. 44 Camaro in the late model competition.

Several other drivers are entered in more than one category as Chuck "The One Armed Bandit" Amati of Greenfield, Tenn., will bring a midjet here for the first time as well as his No. 44 blue-lace-painted sprinter.

Amati was the winner in the sprint division at the last race here. He also was one of the drivers who appeared at the track last Friday only to find that the race had been cancelled.

Jones will appear in both a midjet and a sprinter, as will Kirkpatrick, Jimmy Moughon and Taylor.

The Tri-City Classic is expected to draw several top drivers from the area into the stock competition including Tommie Frazier of Jefferson City, Mo., the 1970 Missouri champion and the Capital City Speedway late model champion at Jefferson City the last three years.

He has never raced here but last Friday he and his 1970 Camaro arrived to greet Amati, 15 other drivers and three inches of water on the infield.

Top Drivers

Another top stock driver entered is Joe Ross of Mechanicsburg, Ill., the 1970 champion at the Macon, Ill., speedway. Also expected are Walt Krummel of Donaldson, Ill., Roger Drake of Champaign, Art Lynch of Hillsboro, Ill., Bobby Minor of St. Louis, Roger Reed of St. Louis and the track regulars. Qualifying in all three classes will begin at 7 p.m. and racing will begin at 8:30.

Angels High With 10-8 Win Over GC News

Debbie Stein belted two home runs for the Young Life Angels as they defeated Granite City News 10-8 in High School Girls League softball action Tuesday in Wilson Park.

Connie Ripper tagged a four-bagger for the GC News as both teams garnered 13 hits and committed no errors. GC News had a 5-1 lead when the Angels came to bat in the last of the third and then sounded off with eight big runs.

Metro-East Industrial sneaked by Donna Lee's Beauty winning 6-5. Sharon Brewer tagged two home runs for Donna Lee's, and Kathy Brown had one for the Industrials.

The Industrials came to life with four runs in the sixth and then added two in the top of the seventh.

Ed Moore Construction Jr. belted 27 hits for 16 runs, and played flawlessly on the field to win over Clean Craft who scored 11 runs on 19 hits and also committed no errors.

Helping the cause for Moore Jr. were Charlotte Moore and Denise Cox, who both tagged round-trippers.

Long Lake Fire Assn. to Study Hydrant Requests

A request by Nameoki township officials that fire hydrants be installed in the more heavily populated areas of the township will be studied by a committee of the Long Lake Fire District and a report made at a later meeting of the fire association, it was announced at the annual meeting of the district trustees Tuesday night.

Agreement to study the request for hydrants climaxed a controversy that began several months ago when Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whittell said he was unable to arrange a meeting with the Long Lake Fire Association trustee to discuss a request for installation of fire hydrants.

Whittell was present at the meeting Tuesday night and not only made the request for consideration of fire plugs in various sections of the township, but also challenged the increase in the fire district's appropriation bill and the increase this year in the district's tax rate.

The fire district approved a budget of $50,125, which compared with expenditures of $17, 397 for the fiscal year that ended April 30.

Whittell asked for a breakdown of the appropriation figure. He was told by Nick Vasiloff, attorney for the fire district, that $36,000 will be paid for payment of a service contract to the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department which provides fire protection services for the district on a fee basis.

Vasiloff and members of the board said the budget for the 1971-72 year is considerably higher because of the additional territory taken into the fire district by annexation last year. Nameoki township annexed to the district to obtain fire protection after Granite City, which previously serviced Nameoki township areas, limited calls within the city.

Vasiloff said after the meeting that only $1,775 of the total budget goes for expenses of the fire district itself. He said all other funds are paid out in costs for fire protection furnished by the fire department.

County Building Plan Ready By Year's End, Board Told

Plans for a new Madison County jail and an administration building should be ready to present to the County Board of Supervisors by Jan. 1, according to John Gitchoff, chairman of the Madison County Public Building Commission.

Gitchoff told the board members Monday that an architect is being sought to prepare a master plan of public building needs in the county and that a firm to do the work should be selected within a month. A preliminary indication of the scope of the plan should be given to the board by Sept. 1, he said.

If all work is completed on schedule, groundbreaking for the two new buildings could begin early next year, Gitchoff added.

He added the commission is awaiting legal recognition from the state before it can issue revenue bonds to finance construction, architect, legal and other costs. A Chicago law firm has been retained to proceed with certification efforts.

Once certified, the bonds may be issued without referendum for an amount up to 5% of the total assessed valuation of $940,500,000, which is the County's 1970 assessment.

New Publication Plan

The board Monday approved a plan to list quadrantal real estate under a streamlined plan which could save at least $25,000 in legal publication costs this year.

Under the plan, descriptions of real estate will be confined to a County real estate index number system rather than lengthy metes and bounds descriptions. Publication costs are expected to be reduced from $60,000 to about $35,000 this year and may be even lower in 1972 after Alton township real estate has been indexed. Alton is the only township for which the system has not been completed.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by the board after attorneys declared the innovation legal.

In other business the board approved Dan Churovich's appointment to the Southwestern Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to succeed Harry Briggs who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the Nameoki Township supervisor post by Louis Whittell.

29 Districts Set In County Board Reapportionment

The Madison County Board of Supervisors today adopted a resolution establishing a reapportionment plan calling for 29 districts with one member from each district to be elected to the county board.

The effective date of the resolution was set for June 30. It is almost certain to be rescinded if the State Legislature and Gov. Richard Ogilvie approve an extension of the July 1 deadline on the order to reapportion counties on a one-man one-vote basis.

The special meeting held this morning was recessed until June 29 when final decision will be made. If the proposed extension at Springfield fails, the board then will fix the compensation for the new members and the chairman. The chairman will be selected from among the members as is done now.

Current compensation for the 49-member board is $25 per day for board or committee meetings plus 15 cents a mile for travel expenses. The county has allocated $140,000 for the purpose this year.

As proposed by the board legislative committee headed by Orvil Oglesby of Wood River Township, the districts for the Quad-City area will be numbered and bounded on a precinct basis. Included are:

District 15: Wood River 1-2-5-6, Chouteau 3; District 16: Chouteau 1-2-4, Nameoki 3; District 19: Granite City 16-21-22-23-24-30-31; District 20: Granite City 18-19-20-27-28-32; District 21: Granite City 11-13-14-17-26; District 22: Granite City 45-46-7-8-15-25; District 23: Granite City 9-10-29, Venice 1-2-4-5-10-11; District 24: Venice 3-6-7-8-9, Granite City 1-2-3; District 25: Nameoki 2-4-7-10, Granite City 12, Collinsville 13; District 26: Nameoki 1-3-8-9-11, Collinsville 10.

Fire Causes $7,500 Damage at GC Home

A fire attributed to arson caused damages totaling $7,500 at the home of Harold Broyles, 2862 Madison Ave., at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday. Firemen were at the scene two and a half hours.

Fire department officials said the fire started in several parts of the one-and-a-half story, brick house at the same time and that evidence of arson was found. The family was not at home when the blaze started.

The fire damaged several rooms but did not thoroughly gut the residence, firemen said. Damage was estimated at $3,500 to the house and $4,000 to the contents.

Collide in Eagle Park

The autos of Theodore A. Narvaez, 1519 Market St., Madison, and Harold Lolumondiere, 809 Iowa St., Madison, collided at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Fina Service Station, Madison police said. The Narvaez auto was pulling toward the gas pumps and the Lolumondiere vehicle was backing from the garage when they collided. The left side of Narvaez's car was damaged.

USING FABRIC SOFTENER GIVES MANY ADVANTAGES

Use a fabric softener in the final laundry rinse to remove the static cling from your husband's shirts or from any other garments made of synthetic fibers, such as nylon, polyester or acrylic. The fabric softener will also give a softness and fluffiness to other fabrics and minimize wrinkling to reduce or even eliminate ironing. But beware of overuse on items such as diapers or bath towels because a waxy build-up can reduce absorbency.

MILK IS FOOD BARGAIN

Have you ever wondered why milk is always considered a food bargain? Milk warrants its high regard as a food bargain because of its high nutritive value and convenience at economical prices.

Milk provides calcium, top quality protein, riboflavin, Vitamin A and many other nutrients. Milk is the main food source for calcium—the mineral that helps build strong bones and teeth in growing children and helps keep adults' bones strong.

The following amounts of milk are recommended daily:

—Children, three or more cups.
—Teen-agers, four or more cups.
—Adults, two or more cups.
—Pregnant women, three or more cups.
—Nursing women, four or more cups.

Because you can get milk in a wide variety of forms, meeting your daily requirements should be no problem. In liquid form, there is milk; reconstituted nonfat dry milk; butter-milk; chocolate milk or dairy drink; and evaporated and condensed milk.

You can also meet part of your nutritional needs for milk by eating other dairy products, such as cream, ice cream and other frozen dairy desserts, cheese, cottage cheese, sour cream or yogurt.

SWIMSUIT CARE

Your swimsuit will look better and last longer with proper care. Rinse it in cool or lukewarm water after each wearing. And if you swim in a pool where strong disinfectants are used, give your suit a good soaking followed by thorough rinsing. To remove excess moisture, roll your suit in a towel, smooth it out, and hang it in the shade to dry. Between wearings, store your suit on a hanger—not stuffed in a drawer.

If you plan to spend the entire summer at the beach, consider taking three swimsuits—one to wear, one to dry, and one for spare.

BIKINI IMAGE

The bikini rates high in popularity among this season's swimsuits. But before you choose a bikini, consider the requirements for a beautiful bikini image. The wearer of this scantiest of swimsuits should have a flat stomach, collections are scheduled to get under way later this month. The office will be filled by appointment by Mayor Donald Parney, with consent of the city council.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Vivian Rich; a daughter, Mrs. Ann Rich of Granite City; and one son, Ramsey Rich of Granite City; his father, Ernest S. Rich of Granite City; two brothers, Edwin Rich of Cape Anna, Ill., and James Rich of Coral, Fla., and one grandchild. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Lake School Burglary

A burglar took some supplies from the kitchen and ransacked a classroom and a desk in the boiler room at Lake School, it was reported at 7:10 a.m. today. Entry was gained by breaking the door glass on the east side of the building.

1957 Auto Stolen

A white-over-light purple 1957 four-door auto owned by James Farley, 2102 Bryan Ave., was stolen while it was parked in the 2200 block of Washington Ave., he reported at 1:50 a.m. today.

non-bulky hips and slim thighs. If your figure is well-proportioned—but you have thigh problems—choose the modified bikini or surfer. The two-piece style provides more covering than a bikini. And bottoms usually include little skirts or boy-legged shorts. Tops, too, cover more of the figure with scooped neckline and wider straps, which help to minimize a large bustline.

Air Force Training Offered Young Jobless

For those men having difficulty finding work today, a job might be as close as the newest Air Force recruiting office, Sgt. Ernest Blackman, local recruiter, reminded.

Department of Labor statistics show that one of every six civilian craftsmen or technicians received his initial technical training in military schools. Last year, more than 480,000 Air Force members participated in technical training at bases across the nation.

It is estimated that more than 90% of the young men and women in the Air Force learn a skill that has some direct civilian utility.

The more than 400 different jobs available to new airmen fall into four basic aptitude areas — mechanical administrative, general and electronic. Interested men may take the Airman's Qualifying Exam to determine their relative abilities within each of the aptitude areas. Based on the results of the exam, given at no obligation to the individual, a man may be enlisted in one of four areas.

After accepting his oath of enlistment, he enters a six-week basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. After basic training, he probably would be sent to one of five large technical training centers located in Texas, Mississippi, Illinois or Colorado. In a typical year, these five centers alone train more than 150,000 students in more than 1,000 courses.

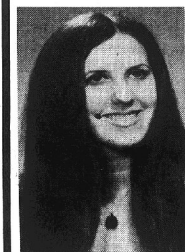

Those students who do not attend technical school early in their service receive programmed on-the-job instruction and may be eligible for advanced training later.

To qualify for the Air Force, a man must be at least 17 and not more than 27 years of age and be able to meet physical and mental qualifications. A high school diploma is not mandatory; graduates are given enlistment priority, however.

If under age 18, a man must have his parent's consent.

For more information, interested persons may contact Sgt. Blackman, at 600 Missouri Ave., E., St. Louis, or phone 274-1244.

Camp Sessions to Start at SIU's Little Grass

While Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus began coasting through final examinations to the post-graduation break, its Little Grass Lake Outdoor Laboratory rang the bell for a jam-packed summer camping schedule.

Fifty to arrive last week were a half dozen growups representing the American Camping Assn. The ACA wants its members to learn as much about ecology as entertainment.

For the hundreds of kids, counselors, teachers and students who will follow them into the 6,000-acre outdoor laboratory complex this summer, "environmental awareness" will be as much on their minds as cook-outs and trail-riding.

From now until the end of August, the summer program will dovetail one workshop and camp session after another and each will stress the importance of the "beauty, fragility, change and order inherent in our environment."

The ACA-sponsored "Ecology Workshop" will mark an abrupt departure from customary pre-camp personnel. Instead of hearing about new ways to tool leather or schedule meals, the workshopers will be finding out how to improve their own camp sewage disposal system and their own programs of environmental education.

Paul Yambert, dean of Outdoor Laboratories at SIU, said it is one of five national ACA pilot projects which could lead to standard camp certification courses, much like the Red Cross water safety program.

A darkhorse entry on this summer's Outdoor Laboratory agenda is a combination physical and psychological challenge called "Underway." High School campers will experience two weeks of demands on their muscles and brains designed to boost confidence, discover potential and expose them to nature on nature's terms.

"Underway" will include hikes up to 30 miles, wilderness survival and a rugged obstacle course. Four sessions of two weeks each will begin June 27.

Bonnie Byrnes to Attend Music Camp
Bonnie Joyce Byrnes, 4732 Namooki Road, will attend the 19th annual Illinois Wesleyan University Summer Music Camp for 174 high school musicians at East Bay Camp at Lake Bloomington June 28-July 3.

Camp director Maurice Wills, associate professor of music at Wesleyan, has scheduled two public concerts at 2:30 p.m. June 27 and 2:15 p.m. July 3 at the camp.

SIU-SW ART STUDENTS ERECT TWO KILNS. A salt kiln and a raku kiln designed by Prof. Kenneth Ferguson of Kansas City, Mo., have been built at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. They were constructed by Ferguson and SIU-SW art students with high-intensity brick donated by the A. P. Green Refractories Co. of Mexico, Mo. The 2,900 special brick used is valued at $1,815. Ferguson, head of the ceramics faculty at the Kansas City Art Institute, was an artist-in-residence in the spring quarter. He is shown inspecting the ovens.

Telephone Installers To Strike July 14

Telephone service may be hampered in the area by a Western Electric strike set for 6 a.m., July 14, if a contract settlement with the Communications Workers of America is not reached by that date. The contract of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. employees here expires on the same day, leaving the possibility of a second strike.

If Western Electric fails to reach agreement by that date, all installers will picket telephone company offices where they presently are working. Bell employees are expected to honor the picket lines even if they do not strike at that time.

Eleven installers are working in the Granite City Southwestern Bell office installing expansion and touch tone dialing equipment. The work will not be completed until October or November. The strike would not affect the company garage on Adams Street or the substation on Pontoon Road, a spokesman said.

Contract talks between the union and Southwestern Bell will begin Tuesday in St. Louis. No settlement is expected until after Western Electric has settled its contracts, since the Western Electric contract has been the model for Bell contracts in past years.

The July 14 strike date for Western Electric employees was announced yesterday afternoon by Communications Workers President Joseph A. Beirne at the annual CWA convention in Kansas City.

Installers in Alton, Springfield, Mount Vernon, Decatur, Rock Island and Moline, Ill., walked off their jobs from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. Tuesday in the dispute and installers in Chicago reported for work one hour late on that day.

Stolen Auto Recovered

The auto of William Dale Hammett, 1645 Second St., Madison, was recovered by Madison County Nightriders last night. The car was stolen at 6:30 a.m. yesterday from Hammett's home.

Auto Stops, Struck

Stopping as railroad crossing gates were being lowered, the rear of an auto driven by James Warford Jr., Grafton, was struck by a car driven by Eva F. Williams, 2312 Missouri Ave., at 6:55 a.m. today at 20th Street.

Expo Center Bill in House Revenue Unit

Illinois House Speaker Robert W. Blair yesterday reassigned the Madison-St. Clair Counties exposition center bills to the Revenue Committee from other committees, as a move to place both before a single committee.

Predictions are being voiced at Springfield that the bills will be killed by the committee unless Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie intervenes.

Meanwhile, Rep. C. L. McCormick (R, Vienna) has taken over sponsorship of the legislation in place of Rep. Philip Collins (R, Chicago), a vocal critic of SIU-SW. The local university has been mentioned as a possible site for the proposed convention center.

Senate bills substantially boosting judges' pay and pension benefits were endorsed 9-1 by the House Pensions Committee and 11-2 by the House Judiciary Committee on Tuesday.

The House Appropriations Committee approved 14-10 transferring assessment of downstate corporate personal property to the state.

The Senate Executive Committee voted 20-0 Monday for a bill to let newsmen keep confidential the names of their information sources except when so ordered by a court to divulge them to a grand jury or other government investigating body.

The Illinois House passed a bill 111-38 Monday to provide $8 million in state tax aid to 90 private colleges.

A statewide referendum on repealing the Firearms Owners Registration Act was advanced to the Senate floor.

With the six-month session ending June 30, General Assembly leaders are discussing holding a five-week fall session.

Attorney General William J. Scott ruled Wednesday that the Assembly will legally exist until the second week of January 1973. He said all bills introduced this year could be acted on in 1972.

Miss GC Candidates for 1971

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

The annual quest to discover the most attractive, poised and talented young woman to represent the local community in the Miss Illinois contest is under way.

Six lovely brunettes are candidates for the title of Miss Granite City, the initial step on the ladder to fame and fortune via the Miss America crown.

The final decision will be made one week from today when the Miss Granite City Pageant takes place at 8 p.m. June 24, in the Washington Theatre under auspices of the Granite City Jaycees.

The public is invited to view the colorful extravaganza, featuring varied entertainment in addition to the artistry of the contestants themselves as they present their individual talent for the judges' and audience approval.

Although all six candidates are brunettes, their brunettes range from light brown to almost black and their complexions from fair to olive tones. Two are green-eyed, two have hazel eyes and the remaining two some have brown eyes.

1971 Candidates

The 1971 Miss Granite City candidates are:
Miss Janice Elaine Albers, daughter of William and Joyce Albers, 3119 Yale Drive; Miss Donna Marie Ferro, daughter of Peter C. and Evelyn J. Ferro, 2520 Delmar Ave.; Miss Patricia Ann Finke, daughter of Walter and Mary Lee Rozycki, 2016 Lindell Blvd.

Jan J. Langenstein, general chairman of the 1971 pageant, said rehearsal sessions are now in progress at the Jaycee clubhouse. Assisting the contestants in preparing for the event are Mrs. Pat Fry of the Jayceettes and Miss Ruth Ann Diak, the retiring Miss Granite City.

A special parade to publicize the Miss Granite City Pageant is planned at 2:30 p.m. Sunday with candidates receiving through the communities in several antique automobiles.

Homecoming Appearance
In addition, the girls will appear at the Granite City Jaycee "Homecoming" celebration, at 9 p.m. Saturday, Langenstein said.

Judging in the local, state and national pageants is based upon talent presentation, poise, beauty in the evening gown segment, appearance in a swimming suit and personality.

This year's contestants are evenly divided in age—two are 18-year-olds, two, 19 years and two are 20.

Scout-Buddy Camp Plan Sponsored by Optimists

The Granite City Optimist Club is planning a "Scout and Buddy" campout Sept. 25 and 26 at Camp Beaumont in St. Louis county.

The club hopes to have 400 Boy Scouts and about 400 other boys who are of scout age, but not in the program to a weekend of scout activities in an effort to recruit new scouts.

The scout and his non-scout buddy will spend the weekend camping out, cooking and participating in scoutcraft projects. They will attend a campfire program complete with skits, songs and stories, and learn what scouting is all about.

Leo Konzen, vice-president of the Optimist Club and Uniway (Quadrant) District Boy Scout chairman, originated the idea and presented it to the club.

The Optimist club, nationally known as the friend of the boy, will finance the weekend at a cost estimated at $800, in addition to giving direct leadership to the project.

The local Optimists already have given $300 to the "Boy Scouts to be used by needy boys who want to attend the regular scout camp for a week at Camp Sunnen near A'wick, Mo.

In preparation for the new scouts anticipated from the recruiting weekend, the Uniway District has held two dinners to line up sponsoring institutions and organizations for new troops. The two dinners were given by the First Granite City National Bank and the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Presently there are 627 Boy Scouts in the Quad-Cities. The goal for the end of the year is a total of 800. According to Konzen the "Scout and Buddy" weekend will move the district well over the goal for Boy Scout membership.

The total membership goal for all three phases of the program, Camp Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring is 2,166.

Currently there are more than 1,600 boys active in the three programs in the area.

Lawn & Garden

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Extension Adviser,
Ornamental Horticulture
St. Clair and Madison Counties

TRY PERIWINKLE IN THE SUN

Periwinkle thrives in full sun and hot weather to produce rich green foliage and continuous flowers.

Periwinkle (commonly sold as Vinca) is a low bushy plant that gradually enlarges to become 24" in diameter and 18" high. Dark green foliage contributes to the landscape scene while it produces a sharp contrast to attractive bright flowers.

Continuous flowers from June to October push the petals to shame. The color range is limited to white or pink and combination of the two.

Garden stores sell periwinkle as transplants. At this season you will be unimpressed by the scrawny plants and lack of flowers.

WATERING YOUR GARDEN

Watering doesn't require a magic formula for best results as long as the foliage dries before dark. Morning or afternoon watering is equally effective as long as the foliage dries before dark. Morning or afternoon watering is equally effective as long as you supply enough water.

Moist foliage in the evening often encourages leaf diseases. Afternoon watering combined with evening dew provides the necessary time for diseases to spread. Brief drying breaks the cycle and gives you control.

Deep watering of flower and garden beds requires about an inch of water on the soil surface. Place a juice can or a cup of the soil among the plants and measure the water level in your dish.

DIVIDING NARCISSES

If your narcissus were clumps of leaves and not many flowers it may be because they are overcrowded.

Plan to dig large clumps this year and replace the choice bulbs in October. Let the foliage ripen naturally until it begins to fade or die down. Then dig the entire clump and store it in a cool dry place. Be sure to leave the foliage on.

In early October divide the clump and sort the bulbs. Replant the largest bulbs in your perennial flower garden or create a nursery in your garden until they enlarge and begin to flower.

BUILD BEAUTY IN PINES

All varieties of pines will be dwarfed and dense when you prune in June. Pruning in June shortens the space between the branches and causes an increase in new buds. Prune your pine by cutting the leader (the top shoot) to an 8 to 12 inch stub. Prune the lateral shoots of this top cluster 2 to 4 inches shorter than the leader. For the side branches use the same rule. Cut the main candles 1/4 to 1/2 instead of the 8 to 12 inch rule with the lateral candles cut slightly shorter.

Every pine produces a new spurt of growth (candles) which mature by late June. Clusters of dormant buds develop on the ends of each candle. If you prune the tree in June the tree will develop new buds in the clusters nearest the cut.

If you prune these same candles in the fall or early spring new buds will not develop near the cut and the tree is unable to grow.

White pine, Scotch pine and Austrian pine all respond to proper pruning with a change in their pyramidal habit of growth. When a pine is rather overgrown and dense it is not necessary to prune every year.

MOTHS IN YOUR LAWN!

Weebworm moths are buff-colored moths which fly up when you mow the grass or brush against the shrubbery.

Sod weebworm larva is a chewing pest which lives in the dry clippings and feeds on blades of grass. When the worms aren't too thick and the grass is growing this pest does not create noticeable injury.

Weebworm moths in your lawn in June are the start of the first generation in late June and early July. This early generation seldom creates noticeable damage because rains and fertilizer keep the grass growing. The population of worms in June is only a fraction of the late summer generation which appears in August.

If you are suspicious of brown areas in your turf look for clipped-off plants. Weebworms cut off the grass shoots 1/2 inch above the soil. When lots of grass in brown areas are clipped off you know weebworm is serious while lots of dead clumps but no chewing indicates a serious disease.

Early season treatment for Weebworm is a waste of money unless you can find extensive chewing of entire clumps. If control is necessary in August use carbaryl or diazinon as a granular insecticide. How you plan to spray use 2 to 3 gallons of spray per 1000 sq. ft. or water the lawn just before you spray. Granules do not need to be watered.

County Clerk to Accept Absentee Votes Saturday

The office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz will be open from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday to permit absentee voting in person for Tuesday's election of two Madison county members of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District. Miss Hotz announced today.

Today was the deadline for accepting absentee ballots by mail. Absentee votes may be cast in person at Miss Hotz's Edwardsville office through tomorrow during regular office hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Miss Hotz said.

Election supplies for balloting in the Tuesday runoff election of two levee board trustees in the four townships of the Quad-City area were distributed yesterday. The job of delivering the ballots and other supplies will be completed tomorrow, the county clerk said.

The election will be conducted in all of Granite City, Venice and Nameoki townships, and precincts one and four of Chouteau township which comprise the territory making up the Madison County sector of the levee district.

Judges to Serve
Miss Hotz said that all of the election judges she has contacted in making arrangements for the balloting have indicated a willingness to serve despite a controversy over payment of election costs for the May 4 primary election. Cost of the elections in Madison and St. Clair county have been charged against the levee district, but the district refuses to pay on grounds there is no legal basis for an election.

All election judges eventually will be paid for their services, even if it becomes necessary to file suit against the levee district to force payment, Miss Hotz said.

Only six absentee ballots by mail had been received at the clerk's office today.

Federal Tax Stamps Must Be Paid July 1

Persons involved with businesses or products requiring a federal occupation tax stamp must register and pay for tax stamps for the fiscal year July 1 to June 30, 1972.

The kind of business or products requiring a stamp include gaming devices, wagering, distilled spirits, wines, beers, and firearms. Those planning to start a business that requires a stamp should register and pay the tax before commencing business, Mr. Philpott said.

Scouts are Honored By Venice Lions at Dinner

A "get well" card was signed by all the members and the Eagle scouts to be sent to Tommy Hooks, who is convalescing at the George Washington University Hospital in Washington, D. C., after suffering injury in a swimming accident. He also was to have been honored at the dinner.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for using the American Legion bar-becue pit in Venice toward a benefit fund for Tommy Hooks. The committee consists of Charles Simmons, Larry Hartman, the Rev. Terry Shea and the Madison police department.

On July 21, the Lions will attend a baseball game at Busch Stadium between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies.

A swim outing is planned for the last of July at Springdale, Mo., with Tom Williams in charge of arrangements.

Improve Scout Building
Plans were made to complete painting and roofing of the Boy Scout building on Broadway.

The next meeting will be June 28 at the Kit Kat Klub at Horseshoe Lake. Everyone is to bring his own food.

President Phil Smith appointed the following members to serve on Lions committees for the coming term: attendance committee, Larry Hartman, Harold Koelker Jr. and Rev. Shea; community betterment, Dr. John E. Lee, Milton Morris and Al Pace; membership, Henry McMullen, Pete Fields and Rich McIntosh.

Program committee, Morris, McIntosh and Joe Bagli; entertainment, Tom Williams, Pete Fields and Charles Simmons; blind committee, Simmons, Don Phillips and Pace; greater committee, Duane Rankin, Fred Rumpf and Harry Buente; fund raising, Jay Maurer, Simmons and Jack Fields; public relations, Mike Ebersold, Dr. Lee and McMullen.

Safety, Jack Fields, Maurer and Clifford Canner; constitution and bylaws, Hartman; and board of directors, Jack Fields, William, Charles Blibrey, Walter Simmons, Dr. Lee and Phillips.

Dinner was served to the above and Bernard Anderson, Al Harden and Ed Tolay.

Techniques Deficient in Evaluating Aid -- Rendleman

Techniques and resources for evaluating the results of programs funded by the federal government are seriously deficient at all levels of government in this country, Dr. John S. Rendleman, chancellor of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, said at Washington Wednesday.

Rendleman's remarks were made in testimony before the Joint Committee on Congressional Operations during a public hearing.

"We do not have enough reliable information about what we are getting for our money, whether that money is being spent wisely or foolishly, whether other approaches would give us more and better results for our outlays. We need rigorous program auditing resources," the SIU-SW chancellor said.

Rendleman indicated little, if any, effectiveness in this area at the federal level and practically nothing at the state level.

"Both the federal and the state and local governments must make their decisions on the basis of incomplete information. The wisdom of decisions so based must of necessity be questionable," Rendleman said.

The SIU chancellor urged Congress to take the lead in meeting the need for program evaluations. "Congress sets the pace for the rest of the country. If Congress can devise new program auditing techniques and procedures for monitoring the operations of federal programs, this will sooner or later filter down to the state and local levels of government. The beneficial effects of such a development, in terms of efficiency and effectiveness of programs at every level, will be incalculable," Rendleman said.

The Joint Committee on Congressional Operations is holding hearings on the advisability of changing the date of the federal fiscal year.

"If a change in the federal fiscal year will lead Congress toward developing an information and analytical system of auditing program results, then I welcome such a change," the chancellor told the committee.

School Board Hires Four Teachers; Three Resign

Four teachers were hired and three resignations were accepted by the Granite City Board of Education when members met Monday night in the school district offices to continue a session recessed from the previous week.

New teachers retained by the board for the 1971-72 school year are Stanley F. Serwatka, East St. Louis, who has been assigned to special education-physical education. He has 17 years experience and received his B.S. degree at Missouri State University.

Mrs. Mildred Y. Collins of Granite City, with one year's experience, will teach home economics at the senior high school. She holds a master's degree from the University of Illinois.

Virgil Kambarian, 2119 Grand Ave., with a B.S. degree from Eastern Illinois University, will begin his initial teaching assignment at Coolidge Junior High School in language arts and social studies.

Mrs. LaVerna M. Corbitt of Rural Route 2, Collinsville, 11½ years' experience, was assigned as a guidance counselor at Grigsby Junior High School.

She earned a master's degree at SIU-SW.

The resignation of three teachers were accepted. They are Mrs. Joyce Sikora, Gail A. Shafer and Karleen K. Steele.

Mrs. Sikora, whose position as secretary at the Demonstration Center is terminating, requested to be retained on the substitute secretarial list for the school year.

Gail Shafer and Karleen Steele submitted resignations as both are moving from this area.

Custodian Employed
Employed as custodian, effective immediately was Homer Staton, 3001 Willow Ave., who has resided in the school district 14 years.

Permission was granted for Miss Barbara Parkinson, a student at Illinois State University, and Miss Mary Gram, an SIU student, to work as volunteers with physically and mentally handicapped children during the special education summer school program.

The young women may assist in the special classes only if they qualify under the school district's insurance program in the same category as student teachers. Supt. of Schools B. J. Davis told the board.

Authorization was given Nameoki Township officials to use Maryville School as a polling place for the June 22 levee district election, and a request from Coolidge Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association to purchase a Polaroid camera for the school also was approved.

In other action, the board authorized purchase of six spirit process duplicators from Triangle Typewriter Co. which submitted a low bid of $175 per unit price, or a total of $1,032 for the six machines; and gave permission to have two French horns rebuilt at a cost not to exceed $500.

Comptroller Victor G. Anderson explained that replacing the musical instruments would amount to more than $760, while having the horns rebuilt should cost less than $500. He noted that an instrument rebuilt by the King Factory last year, at a cost of $180 has proved satisfactory and should provide about 10 years additional use.

R. H. Cawly in Marine Training at San Diego
Robert H. Cawly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Cawly, 1520 Fourth St., has enlisted in the U. S. Marines for a two-year duty tour and is taking basic training at San Diego, Calif. A 1968 graduate of Granite City High School, he also attended SIU-SW for two and a half years.

Mrs. Smith, the new chaplain, was presented the Auxiliary bible by the retiring chaplain, Mrs. Betty Wilkins, and the American flag was accepted from Mrs. Konkovich by Mrs. Wickham, the incoming sergeant-at-arms.

Presents Awards

In a brief ceremony, the retiring commander presented "Meritorious Service Awards" to Charles 'Butch' Wilkins, a non-member, Floyd Tucker and Steve Konkovich.

Manninger explained the awards were conferred "in appreciation of their efforts in preparing 100 American flags for installation along Madison Avenue prior to Memorial Day."

Special recognition also was accorded four other Amvet members whose work in the same project, including placing the flags in holders along the thoroughfare, "resulted in numerous bruises and blisters," the retiring official noted.

The foursome—Adam Petras, Earl Smith, Clay Varner and Charles Wilkins Jr.—received facsimiles of the Purple Heart Medal designed and made by Mrs. Damal.

Pollution Control Van Developed at SIU-SW

A van outfitted and sponsored by the chemistry faculty at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has become a prototype in the field of water pollution control.

The van has been turned into a one-of-a-kind traveling laboratory to help upgrade and continue training of waste treatment plant operators in Illinois.

The objective of the van, according to Clifford Fore, superintendent of the waste processing plant on the campus and lecturer for the on-the-job training program, is to take the classroom to the operators in the smaller plants.

Explore Problems Here

He said the van could be used for almost any type of environmental investigation. Air and water samples can be taken for demonstration purposes or for research. Requests by members of the faculty and student body have been made to explore environmental problems in this area.

Fore and George Hansberry, assistant professor of chemistry, who teaches waste treatment operators, collaborated on equipment needs for the van and received a grant from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration for $20,000 to complete the task.

The van contains most of the equipment necessary to demonstrate routine tests for water and waste water operators. Self-contained kits for routine laboratory analysis, a centrifuge, and moisture determination balance machine are included in the inventory. With very little alteration or addition of material, air samples can be studied.

Van as Prototype

Robert Mullinaux of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency referred to the van as a prototype. A trailer is being used in California for similar purposes, but no self-sufficient unit like the van is being used for water pollution studies.

Fore said that in the future the van will be operated on a call basis to communities desiring demonstrations and short workshops for their waste treatment operators. He said that personal demands prevent this particular phase of the program at the present.

Communities or groups interested in the van and its availability may contact George Hansberry or Clifford Fore through the Science and Technology Division at SIU-SW.

Employment Down 7% Below Year Ago

Employment during May in 59 reporting industries and businesses of the Quad-City area totaled 15,186 workers in all reporting fields, a drop of 1,032 or 7% below the employment level of the same month a year ago, according to a report by the Granite City office of the Illinois State Employment Service.

The report projects a further decline in employment of 889 workers within the next three months, to a total work force of 14,297 in the 59 reporting firms.

Principal declines are shown in two non-manufacturing fields—contract construction which listed May employment of 272 compared to 498 in May 1970, and federal government employment of 748 last month compared to 1,365 a year ago. In the manufacturing field the primary metal industries recorded employment of 8,725 in six industries during May, a drop of 203 below the work force of 8,928 in the same industries in May 1970. Employment levels remained stable in virtually all other fields.

Ables Elected to Top Chivalric Knights Post

Hiram B. Ables has been elected illustrious knight commander of the Illinois Priory of the Chivalric Knights of the Holy Order of the Fellow Soldiers of Jacques DeMolay.

A January graduate of Granite City High School, he is enrolled at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern majoring in business administration.

He holds the office of junior chapter and is the second illustrious knight commander to be chosen from the local chapter. Chuck Hileman Jr. was the other.

The jurisdiction of the priory covers Southern Illinois. It is a degree for boys 17 to 21 who are active DeMolays, being an appendant organization of DeMolay with its own officers and rituals.

Its main functions are to assist and provide a proper example for the DeMolay chapters and their members. They try to emulate the example of the knights of old by providing service for the weak and needy. Prior to the election outgoing commander Ira Peal Jr. announced an investiture for June 30 at the Franklin Masonic Temple in Alton. Knight-hood will be conferred on eligible DeMolays.

Ables announced that Granite City members of the priory are holding a glass drive through June 28. Pickups will be made on the Friday afternoons and evenings of June 18 and 25.

Persons wishing to donate glass may call Ables at 876-5242 or priory advisor Rick Schoeffel at 1-465-5651 in Alton.

Great Teacher Award Won by Prof. Seligman

David Seligman, winner of the 1971 Great Teacher Award at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern attributes his success to the fact that he is excited about what he is teaching and doing.

"I can't help but transmit some of my enthusiasm to my students," the 30-year-old philosophy professor says. "I don't claim to be the best organized teacher and I'm not a great poet, so I'm not literary, but I am excited about my work."

When Seligman received the Great Teacher Award, inaugurated at the campus a year ago by the SIU-SW Alumni Assn. in recognition of good classroom teaching, he followed in the footsteps of the man who had the greatest influence on his career, Lewis White Beck.

"Professor Beck received a similar award 10 years ago at the University of Rochester," Seligman said. "At that time, I commented that I hoped I could be half the teacher he is."

Seligman, who received his A.B. degree in 1963 from the University of Rochester, went there to study physics. "I was allowed one elective course," he says, "and I chose philosophy. Prof. Beck was my instructor and after one semester with him I was hooked. I changed my major from physics to philosophy."

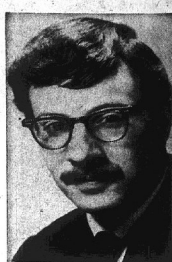

"Beck was a great teacher and he developed me as a teacher more than anyone," Seligman says. "David Falk, chairman of the philosophy department at the University of North Carolina, had the most influence on my philosophical viewpoint."

Seligman, who joined the SIU-SW philosophy faculty in 1967, the year he received his Ph.D. at Duke University, says he cares about his students as persons, "who are going to have to live their lives in society and not as clients of education. I'm not so concerned about selling knowledge," he elaborated. "As I am in seeing that what I give my students is going to better equip them for the kind of world they are going to be facing. The history of philosophy is a tool that teaches students to live in the present and future."

In his beginning classes the young philosopher says he "gets young people with no exposure to philosophy or critical thought excited about the critical attitude of mind and exposing various ways of knowing and paths of knowledge."

With his advanced students he is primarily interested in teaching advanced methodology of philosophical thought and bringing them the latest developments in the particular areas in disciplines they are working on.

"After you get them excited," Seligman says, "the job is to explore with them. To do this the teacher must be abreast of the latest developments."

DAVID SELIGMAN

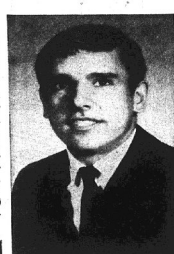

"Teaching and research complement each other," he said in response to a question about the importance of research in comparison with good classroom teaching. "The man who doesn't keep up with research is likely to become stale and to read last year's notes to his class."

"I don't care as much about the moral stance of my students when they leave a course as how rationally they can support their convictions," the SIU-SW philosophy professor says. "Instead of trying to change their beliefs—many of which were handed down by their parents or the church—I want them to learn habits of rational and critical thought. If they learn this, whatever they believe when they go out of my class will be morally reasonable."

Learn Outside Classroom "Education doesn't end at the classroom door," according to Seligman's philosophy. "At a good university," he maintains, "the student learns as much outside the classroom as he does inside. A good student learns from his fellow students. At a commuter school like SIU-SW, this is more difficult. For this reason I feel I have a special obligation to make contacts outside the classroom—at the University Center over a cup of coffee or by my open-door office policy. I always have time for my students. I can reserve my evenings and weekends for research and writing."

Seligman says the philosophy faculty at SIU-SW deserves equal credit for the Great Teacher Award he received. "The attitude among our philosophy faculty is that teaching is important. I was surprised when I was elected to receive the award but I was not surprised that it was given to a member of our faculty."

Undergraduate adviser in philosophy, Seligman says the 20-man faculty "has such a good reputation, we are able to attract students and we have a good reputation because we care and we make it count."

Gannon, pastor of the Cathedral, has announced.

"The St. Louis Cathedral is a cultural center for people of all faiths in St. Louis, as well as an object of interest and art," he said. "We welcome volunteers from all communities in the St. Louis area who may enjoy helping to organize the Cathedralfete as well as participating in the events," the pastor added.

Cathedralfete '71 will include a giant bazaar-type of sale and flea market, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 28 and 29, on the grounds of the St. Louis Cathedral, Lindell Boulevard and Newstead Avenue, and an auction of prestige items, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 8, 9 and 10. The flea market and bazaar expect over 5,000 items for sale.

The auctions are being planned on basis of between 400 and 450 articles and services ranging from a gourmet dinner prepared and served by the priest at the Rectory to a 30 day visit to Switzerland.

VOTE FOR VON DEE CRUSE AND WALTER "SHANG" GREATHOUSE FOR LEEVE BOARD

Tuesday, June 22, 1971

AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR THE LEEVE DISTRICT WE PLEDGE TO:

Continue to work with Rep. Horacio Calvo and State Senator Sam Vadalaubene for the separation of the Levee District. Our Legislatures are the only ones that are able to vote on this bill since the District was established by Legislation.

LEEVE BOARD MEMBERS CANNOT VOTE.

● Pending the accomplishment of the foregoing or in the event that splitting the district is not accomplished, We make the following pledges to the voters in regard to our performance as a trustee of the levee district if elected:

● We pledge to vigorously seek to have all property surrounded by the district, included in the levee district which they are not at the present time. The reason that these properties valued at millions of dollars are not included in the district needs investigation.

● We pledge to enforce a strict rule limiting the number of employees to the minimum required for proper performance of the responsibilities to the levee district and pledge that the levee district payroll will not be used for loon dogging or the payment of political debts. Every employee shall be a working employee.

● We pledge to follow the statutes of the State of Illinois to the letter in regard to the letting of bids and the awarding of the contracts and pledge that all caucuses as well as all meetings shall be open to the public and press.

● We pledge to keep legal fees to a minimum and recommend that the attorney be paid on a per diem basis rather than on a yearly retainer so that he will be paid only for work done for the levee district.

● We pledge to make a disclosure of our personal income to assure the public that there is no conflict in the performance of our duties.

● Finally, We pledge to make every effort to operate the levee district in as efficient a manner as possible.

We believe that being elected a member of the Board of Trustees for the East Side Levee and Sanitation District represents one of the biggest challenges any elected official representing the local taxpayers would confront today. We would like to have the opportunity to accept this challenge.

Quad-Cityans to Elect Levee Trustees Tuesday; To Ballot in 56 Polling Places

Voters will go to the polls in the Quad-City area again Tuesday to elect two members of the five-man board of trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District. St. Clair county voters also will ballot to elect three members of the board from that portion of the district.

The special election ordered by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie to replace present board members because of their circuit court conviction on misconduct charges will be held only in the area making up the Madison county portion of the levee district.

This includes all 32 precincts of Granite City township, all 11 precincts of Nameoki township, the 11 precincts of Venice township, and two of the four precincts (Nos. one and four) in Chouteau township.

Polling places will open at 6 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. Results of the balloting will be reported by election judges directly to the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz at Edwardsville.

Primary Judges Unpaid
Tuesday's runoff election will climax a controversy that has been under way since shortly after the May 4 primary election in which Quad-City voters nominated two Democratic candidates and two Republican candidates for the two Madison county levee board posts.

Election judges who served in the 56 polling places of the Quad-City area in the May 4 primary have not been paid for their services and many of them have expressed bitter complaints over the development.

Miss Hotz has disclaimed responsibility for paying costs of the election. So has Dan Ring, county clerk of St. Clair county who, through the St. Clair county treasurer, has impounded $11,000 in levee district tax funds to guarantee the election costs in May.

The levee board has refused to honor bills for the election judges and other election costs sent to the district by Miss Hotz and Ring. These bills total more than $26,000. The levee board members—Morris Campbell, George Duff and Lawrence Tolar of East St. Louis, and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, maintain they remain in office under rulings of the Appellate and Supreme Courts and there is no legal grounds for conducting an election.

The present four members of the levee board were convicted last fall of misconduct in connection with the award of contracts allegedly without bidding and failure to obtain a performance bond. They were sentenced in circuit court at Belleville to three years probation, $12,500 fines each and removal from office.

Stay Order Issued
The board members obtained from the Appellate court an order permitting them to remain in office pending appeals of the circuit court convictions. This order was upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Governor Ogilvie, however, maintained conviction of the four trustees automatically removed them from office under Illinois statutes. He ordered the special primary election May 4 and next Tuesday's runoff election to elect a new board. The present levee board has operated with only four members since the death of Joseph Grant of Granite City in 1969.

Seeking election in the Quad-City area Tuesday are Von Dee Cruse and Walter Greathouse, both of Granite City, on the Democratic ballot, and John Mangiaracino of Venice and Lester Thiele of Granite City on the Republican ballot. Two trustees will be elected from among the four candidates.

Thiele, who lives at 1509 St. Clair avenue, won his nomination by write-in vote in the May 4 primary since Mangiaracino was the only GOP candidate on the ballot.

Cruse, a Granite City tavern operator, lives at 2401a Edwardsville St., and is a former Granite City Alderman and tax assessor. Greathouse, of 34 Riviera Drive, is making his first bid for public office.

Mangiaracino is a former Venice alderman and is a Republican precinct committeeman. He lives at 1004 Third St., Venice.

Demo Whip in Senate Blames Loss of Rail Passenger Service on Ill. GOP Legislators

Illinois Senate Republicans, may have killed for all time any opportunity for the restoration of intrastate rail passenger service, the sponsor of special implementing legislation is charged.

Sen. James Donnewald of Breese, Senate majority whip, said GOP refusal to vote on a bill which would authorize the state to supplement the recently-inaugurated Amtrak railway system "endangers the possibility that Illinois will ever again have a full passenger train system."

The bill would have appropriated $4 million to pay two-thirds of the cost of any losses suffered by adding supplementary passenger service to replace that service which was lost when the Amtrak system took effect on May 1.

The bulk of rail passenger service in Illinois was discontinued on that date, he said, with 94 downstate communities losing all passenger service and with many other communities—including the state capital and two major university centers, Champaign and Carbondale—suffering drastically reduced service.

Many of the Republican senators indicated they were withholding their vote because they distrusted passing the appropriation without any standards. The appropriation provided that the supplementary service would be provided under standards set by the Department of Local Government Affairs, which is under the jurisdiction of Republican Governor Richard Ogilvie, Donnewald contended.

Affects 19 of 20 Districts
"Service was discontinued to the districts of 19 of the 20 downstate Republican members of the Illinois Senate," Donnewald said, "It is inconceivable to me that these men should so meekly fall into line and accept the order of one of their suburban leaders, from a district which is not affected, to the detriment of the residents of their districts."

He said the appropriation was "roughly comparable to the cost of building only one mile of interstate highway."

Donnewald said, "The costs of supplementary service actually would have been far under the suggested appropriation, according to most estimates, because experience has shown that a properly-run railroad passenger service operation does not operate at a loss, but at a profit."

"The governor early this year introduced a $900 million transportation bond issue which did not even mention the impending cessation of rail service. He clearly had forestalled the abolition of rail service. He did not do it and it seems equally clear that he is opposing any attempt to improve this service."

Steering Locks on Car, Drives Onto Lawn
The auto of Betty Bair, 2116 E. 24th St., went out of control while turning from McCambridge Avenue onto Edwardsville Road at 12:25 a.m. Tuesday, and drove onto the front lawn of the home of Raymond Davis, 1914 Edwardsville Road, Madison, according to police.

She told police the steering of the auto locked and she was unable to stop before driving over the curb and onto the lawn. A small tree in the Davis yard was knocked over. Only minor damage to the front of the auto was reported.

Thiele, who lives at 1509 St. Clair avenue, won his nomination by write-in vote in the May 4 primary since Mangiaracino was the only GOP candidate on the ballot.

Cruse, a Granite City tavern operator, lives at 2401a Edwardsville St., and is a former Granite City Alderman and tax assessor. Greathouse, of 34 Riviera Drive, is making his first bid for public office.

INCREASED EFFICIENCY. Pontoon Beach police have redecorated their mobile home office on Long Lake, adding a raised radio room with a surrounding counter, new radio shelves and a new rifle cabinet behind dispatcher Bobby Morgan. Chief of Police Harold J. Denham, left, is shown filling out an accident report while Morgan verifies information by phone.

Regional Report -- Funds to Plan State Office Building

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation) Governor Ogilvie has released funds for preliminary planning of a regional state office building to be constructed in East St. Louis at a projected cost of $1.1 million.

The study will determine the desirable size, sit location and cost of the building. Frank Resnik, acting director of the Illinois Department of General Services, said construction should begin in less than a year.

Construction of the first unit of a new shopping center complex in Pontoon Beach was announced by John Sobol, developer.

The eight- to 12-unit shopping center project, to be built over a three-year period at an estimated cost of $250,000, will be known as the "Court of Kings" shopping center. The first unit, a Lord Nelson's men's clothing store, is expected to be ready for opening Aug. 28.

Ground was broken for the first phase of the Fairview Business Campus. The three-acre, $550,000 complex, consisting of a row of shops and community service offices, is being developed by Pontiac Development Corp. of Fairview Heights.

Phase One of the project, a small convenience grocery and a pharmacy, is expected to be completed in three months.

In other construction news, the new Courtesy Motors on Illinois 150 south of Edwardsville is to be completed late in the summer, with a grand opening scheduled for September.

The Belleville City Council awarded a contract for construction of a city parking lot at 318 West Washington St. The council also approved a petition from the DBK Development Corp. of Belleville for annexation of a two-acre tract to the city for construction of single-family residences.

About 250 persons, about half of the employees at the American Zinc Co. in Sauget, are being laid off during the first phase of closing the plant. The 518 work force to be laid off this summer earned pay totaling an estimated $5 million annually.

American Zinc's financial troubles have made it impossible to transfer employees to other company plants.

In highway construction news, contractors submitted bids on 15 projects in this region but ignored eight projects at the Springfield letting. The 23 area projects have an estimated value of $37 million.

Robert Kronst, chief engineer for Division of Highways District 8, said many of the projects not bid will affect the completion of Interstate 64 in the area.

In education news, a contract with Granite City public school teachers calling for raises of $800 to $900 over a two-year period was ratified by the Granite City School District 9 Board of Education.

East St. Louis School District 189 has been taken off probation by the office of the Illinois superintendent of public instruction.

The Grant School District 110 Board of Education sold $360,000 in bonds for additions and improvements to district schools. Specifications for a 12-room addition to Illini School and some additional space at Grant School are being prepared by Hanner & Breiweiser Architects, Inc., of Wood River.

Sixteen appointees — all but three of them blacks — were approved by the Lewis and Clark Community College Board of Trustees for positions on advisory committees for the school's vocational-technical curriculum.

In general area news, Mayor Nail announced a $125,700 preliminary plan to provide secondary sewage treatment for Rosanna; a $500,000 incinerator for eliminating environmental pollution will be completed this month at the Monsanto Co. at Sauget.

Bethalto annexed 40 acres at the southwest corner of the intersection of Illinois 111 and Illinois 140 to be developed as a subdivision. D. Kent Trone of Edwardsville was a appointed magistrate to replace Magistrate Harold O. Gwillim, who will retire July 3.

Edwardsville attorney Paul Riley was named Madison County public defender and will succeed Edward Moorman June 25; Col. Guy E. Jester was named district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers in St. Louis.

Spec. Walter Schmidt in Fort Ord Experiment Specialist Four Walter L. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Schmidt, 225 Edna St., assigned to the U.S. Army Command Development Command Experimentation Command (CDCCE) at Fort Ord, Calif., is participating in an experiment to provide data useful in determining the effectiveness of helicopters equipped with public address systems.

At CDCCE, Specialist Schmidt serves with Company D, 41st Infantry at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation—CDCCE's Field Laboratory. He has been in the Army since September 1969 and also has served with the 1st Cavalry Division in the Republic of Vietnam. He is a graduate of Granite City High School, class of 1968 and prior to entering the service was a student at Belleville Junior College.

Public Urged to Combat Social Disease Epidemic

Veneral disease is reaching epidemic proportions in the U. S. and the subject justifies much more public attention than it receives, David L. Norton, executive director of the United Fund of the Tri-Cities, told Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday.

He presented findings of the American Social Health Association, which is one of the 21 agencies in the local United Fund. Its service is one of over 200 offered here through the UF, Norton reported.

"Although the topic is unpleasant, it should be of serious concern to every American, and particularly to younger people. It can bring misery to the individual and to those he cares about the most," the speaker commented.

Veneral disease includes syphilis and gonorrhea. They are transmitted by close, intimate contact. They are not passed on by other means.

"One out of every 100 Americans falls victim each year; among teenagers, the yearly rate is twice as high—one in every 50."

"Of those you pass on the street in the St. Louis area, in every four has a social disease or has in the past. Among college graduates at many universities, the rate is one in five."

Norton related that "public health authorities estimate that there are well over 50,000 new cases every day."

"Last year, over 20,000 new cases of syphilis were reported by physicians to the public health authorities. Perhaps as many as 50,000 more cases were not reported."

"Infectious syphilis is not being stamped out. With the discovery of penicillin, the number of cases declined rapidly, reaching a low of just over 6,000 reported cases in 1957. "Since that point, it rose again to a peak year in 1965. Cases then decreased through 1969. But in the past year, they increased by almost 10%—a sudden and alarming change."

"It should be remembered that these are only cases reported to the health services. It is estimated that in 1970 an additional 50,000 or more cases were either not reported or were undiagnosed and thus untreated."

"Some experts believe that over a half-million people are walking around today with undiagnosed syphilis," he told the club.

"If this is bad, the situation with gonorrhea is worse: It is now out of control. In 1970, more than 570,000 cases were reported to the public health services."

"That's only the reported cases. It is estimated there were a million more cases during the same period that were not reported."

"At one time, in the 1950s, we seemed to have gonorrhea on the run. But the number of new cases reported has doubled each year for the past six years."

"It is now the second most widespread disease in the country—exceeded only by the common cold."

"One of the more important weapons that people have to avoid them is information about how the two diseases are contracted, diagnosed and treated—and the importance of rapid and accurate diagnosis and treatment."

"Wherever information programs of this kind have been undertaken, the incidence of the diseases usually declines."

"While gonorrhea is almost as common as the common cold, if not treated its effect can be disastrous. It can lead to severe damage in later life, including sterility and pain."

"Long-range effects of syphilis can be even more devastating, more terrible, more crippling."

"If untreated, the bacterium can attack the heart or central nervous system, thus leading to blindness, paralysis, insanity and early death."

"It can also affect the infant born of a woman who is infected. More than 2,000 cases of congenital syphilis are diagnosed each year."

"The first symptom is usually a sore. It is painless and, in women, may go undetected."

"The sore will disappear after a short period. This does not mean that the individual has recovered. The bacteria are still spreading through the system and can continue thriving for years."

"Some time after the sore disappears, secondary symptoms will probably occur. The most common is a rash covering the back or possibly the palms of the hands and soles of the feet."

"In some cases, the 'visible effects of the disease can be quite ugly, such as extensive sores on the hands. It can also attack other areas of the body, such as the face."

"This disease is capable of devastating destruction—if it's not checked in its very early stages. It can get even worse than I have described, with deep degeneration of tissue."

"The speaker noted that 'truly one of the tragic aspects is what it can do to infants, contracting it from their mothers during pregnancy."

"The absence of symptoms is not proof of the absence of the disease."

"The only way to be sure is by taking a blood test that either a doctor or the public health service will perform; in either case, one's privacy is respected. But for the sake of one's contact, his or her name should be given so that the other person can be treated as well."

"When detected, in the early stages, syphilis can usually be cured without much difficulty by using penicillin. Only a physician can treat you; you cannot treat yourself."

"In the male, the early symptoms of gonorrhea are usually obvious and painful. But in the female, there usually are no immediate symptoms at all."

"This hidden aspect in the female is one of the major causes for the present epidemic of the disease. If it is not treated, it can lead to sterility, inflammation and long-lasting, continual pain."

"We cannot overemphasize the danger."

"Absence of symptoms in the female does not mean she is free of it; 60% or more of infected females simply show no symptoms whatsoever until years after infection."

"Still, they are capable of spreading the disease. And, ultimately, they will suffer the painful results of this disease. In order to make a diagnosis, the physician must obtain a specimen from the infected area and subject it to certain kinds of tests."

"At one time, gonorrhea could be routinely treated with penicillin. But it appears to have grown increasingly resistant to this treatment, particularly in the western part of the U. S. "Almost ten times as much penicillin is now required to treat some cases as was required 20 years ago. In many places, doctors are using other antibiotics."

"Both are silent kinds of diseases," the speaker noted.

"Even if syphilis is not treated in the early stages, the symptoms will usually disappear. Gonorrhea, too, especially in women, will usually seem to lessen or go away for a while."

"This does not mean the person has gotten over the infection. Far from it."

"This system is still being ravaged by the disease. It will burst out again, possibly years later, in destructive form."

"That's another reason why the two diseases are so dangerous—Because so many who are not informed will be fooled into thinking that the disease has cured itself. It hasn't. And it won't unless treatment is received."

"Many people suffer from wrong information. Some women think birth control pills also protect them against disease. This is not true."

"Another common mistake is the idea that people indulging in homosexual contacts cannot get the diseases. This is not true."

"Another big mistake is to believe that once a person has had a venereal disease that he is immune and cannot get it again. Definitely not true. They can be contracted many times."

"They are caught only through close, intimate contact with an infected person. That means they are passed from one person to another. Anyone who gets such a disease got it from someone else."

"And so the diseases spread, from one person to another. To illustrate how rapidly this can happen, the public health service found that one woman had contact with more than 300 men in 36 states and three foreign countries in only four months. This finding was reported in the June 1970 issue of Family Health."

"If one is old enough to get such a disease, one is mature enough to discuss it with his physician, who is not there to judge or punish but to help and cure."

"Those who contract one of the diseases should recognize an obligation to inform those who are probably suffering from it also, possibly without knowing that they need treatment."

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

"It is no time to become shy about discussing it. Refusal to face this responsibility can ruin one's future and that of other persons."

"A cure can be achieved by the doctor, but the individual and only the individual can help the doctor do this."

"The individual can help break the chain of transmission that has caused this horrible epidemic," the speaker concluded.

Retired Workers Hear Convention Reports

Highlights of the recent state convention of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees were outlined to members of the Granite City chapter 1067 at a regular meeting Monday afternoon in the recreation center at Kirkpatrick Homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson and Edward Erney, chapter delegates to the event, summarized convention activities for the 26 members and one guest at the meeting. The keynote speaker at the Moine convention was Clarence M. Tarr, NARFE vice-president and past president, who said that all chapters should try to obtain more members and should begin write-in campaigns to congressmen thanking them for their work on behalf of retired federal employees. They also should urge continued support for several bills now pending which would be beneficial to members of NARFE, the delegates reported.

They said that Eugene M. Estacion, president of the Illinois State Federation of NARFE Chapters, discussed pending state legislation which would aid retirees and urged support for those bills.

The chapter was served a buffet style luncheon and adjourned until Sept. 13. The July and August meetings were cancelled for summer vacations.

CRUISE FOR DISSOLVING THE LEVEE DISTRICT

To the Editor:

I have always been of the opinion that a candidate for public office should fully disclose his platform and intentions for voters' consideration so that they may judge the candidate accordingly. In light of that feeling, I have prepared the following statement:

Since its inception, many of the practices of the levee district have been the subject of much warranted criticism. This has been true not only during its many years of Republican domination but also subsequently under Democratic control.

Because there was a necessity for a number of years for a levee district in St. Clair and Madison Counties and because the voters seemed unwilling or unable to cure these abuses, the bi-county levee district and its questionable practices existed.

Legislators of the General Assembly from the Madison County section of the district introduced legislation calculated to split the district while still maintaining to Madison County residents, and is to be encouraged. I am suggesting a more immediate step.

That is, that a serious investigation be made by a qualified disinterested agency, be it the Corps of Engineers or a commission appointed by the General Assembly, to determine whether there still remains need for a levee district in either or both counties.

While it appears that Madison County may be on the verge of being able to manage its own house, the levee district is concerned and, it is hoped, in a proper and efficient manner, the question that should be answered is whether or not it is feasible to remove this additional layer of government.

With the construction of many dams up and down the Mississippi River and the strengthening of the levees above and below St. Louis, it is certainly possible that there is no longer a need for the levee district—or that the remaining function necessary might be performed by the Corps of Engineers or possibly taken over by the local townships to eliminate completely the necessity of the tax levy of the levee district.

I am forthrightly in favor of a split in the district but I am equally earnest in my petition that we at this time take hard look to see if there is a necessity for a levee district at all.

I realize that it may seem odd for a candidate for an office to suggest possible dissolution of that office. And I know that this position may not be popular in St. Clair County. But it has to be popular in Madison County.

We are entitled to know whether or not the district itself is a necessity. If elected, I will do everything in my power to obtain the study referred to, it being clearly understood that this study must be conducted by a completely disinterested group or commission.

I would be more than happy, if elected, to be one of the trustees to preside over the total dissolution of the levee district in Madison County.

The savings of tax dollars would be more than equal to yearly budgets of the township and park district and would amount to a considerable saving to the individual taxpayer.

Regarding the people of the foregoing—or in the event that dissolution of the levee district or splitting the district is not accomplished—I make the following pledges to voters in regard to my performance as a trustee of the levee district if elected:

1. I pledge to vigorously seek to have the Union Electric Plant in Venice, La., and other properties surrounded by

State Has Two Versions of Bills on Public Employee Bargaining, Strikes

(Springfield Scene) Two versions of bills allowing public employees to bargain collectively and to strike to gain their goals came closer to a face-to-face confrontation this week.

Both call for all governmental employees to be in agency shops and H. 1, proposed by the Illinois AFL-CIO, passed the House 102-44.

S. 1112 was voted out of the Senate Industry and Labor Committee after seven amendments were tacked onto the bill requiring such things as a union shop and setting up a complicated series of procedures which would be required before teachers would be allowed to strike.

Sources in both the House and Senate indicate the House version will be unacceptable in the Senate and the Senate version will be unacceptable to the House sponsors.

The House version allows all public employees the right to strike and encompasses all public employees from the smallest local government unit to the state.

The bill also includes local school districts and state college and university academic personnel.

H. 1 allows public employee unions to use any type of work disruption they may see fit to gain their economic goals with complete disregard of the taxpayer.

The Senate version, however, allows "non-essential employees" to strike and prohibits "essential" employees from striking—but fails to distinguish between the two terms, which would be left to the courts to determine.

It might be difficult to develop, and impossible to implement, objective criteria to determine "essential" and "non-essential" occupational categories and might only lead to confused and extensive litigation at the expense of taxpayers.

Non-public school aid came a step closer to final legislative passage last week when the House, advanced the Senate-passed bill (S. 1105 and S. 1195) to the amendment stage without reference to committee.

Attempts to handle the House-passed bills the same way in the Senate failed last week.

Two bills were introduced simultaneously last week (S. 1252 and H. 3000) proposing a "Transportation Cooperation Act of 1971."

The bills would:

- (1) Permit the state, universities and units of local government to join together by association or contract—to attempt to meet the problem of an absence of, intercity public transportation.
- (2) Allow supplemental service in addition to the Amtrak system.
- (3) Allow local governments and universities to provide the necessary matching funds to qualify for additional federal funds to maintain the supplementary service.

With the House and Senate acting on final readings of House bills, here are some of the more significant bills acted on last week.

Capital gain changes were passed by the Senate (S. 1135) to provide that income derived by an individual from pension and profit sharing plans, provident funds and retirement plans, and the interest thereon, earned or paid by the individual and retained in the plan or fund prior to Aug. 1, 1969, but paid to the individual after July 31, 1969, is not included as taxable income.

The bill also required individual capital gains and losses to be determined in all cases in the same manner as under the federal Internal Revenue Code.

The bill affects only individuals.

Initiatory powers by any member of the Fair Employment Practices Commission would be allowed under H. 1804 passed by the House last week.

Blockbusting tactics by Chicago real estate dealers would be outlawed under a series of bills (H. 1769 and H. 1771) passed by the House.

Minimum wage legislation calling for $1.60 per hour ($.40) was defeated last week in the Senate.

Social Security payments would not affect the eligibility of persons to collect unemployment compensation under H. 1359 passed by the House.

Noncollusion in bidding for public agency contracts is required in H. 2579 passed by the House.

The bill would establish non-collusive bidding certification and prohibit any person from submitting a fraudulent or collusive bid or to refrain from submitting a bonafide competitive bid.

Firearms dealers would be required to notify the buyer's municipality of purchase of a gun, where the municipality had enacted a gun registration law, under penalty of revocation of license for one year for the first offense and three years for subsequent violations under H. 2066-H. 2067 passed by the House.

Door-to-door salesmen would be required to furnish a "notice of cancellation" informing the buyer of his right to cancel contracts within three days when the sale is at a buyer's residence without the buyer's solicitation under H. 1197 passed by the House.

Sex discrimination would be prohibited under the FEPC act in H. 1192 passed by the House.

A bill to prohibit strikebreakers from being imported into the state (H. 1187) has passed the House.

Bills calling for nondiscrimination in the hiring and housing of physically and mentally handicapped (H. 2296 to H. 2299) have passed the House.

The House has passed H. 1353 which would retain the licensing of various occupations and professions by the state under the new constitution.

The Senate has killed a bill (H. 282) which would have made the blueflag the official state fish.

A series of bills (S. 1244 to S. 1251) would require sales tax to be paid on leased equipment or goods.

A Senate Democratic Study Group last week recommended cuts of $15 million from the budgets requested for state colleges and universities by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Gov. Ogilvie, in his budget message, called on the legislature to cut $187 million from the requests.

The cuts made by the study group are a step toward resolving the budget dilemma for higher education.

They are $43 million short of Gov. Ogilvie's requests to cut the higher education budgets.

The cuts in ten major categories retained between 30% and 95% of the original requests submitted by the Board of Higher Education.

However, the study group also is recommending no tuition increases for the next school year. Such increases were built into the Higher Education Board requests.

This will cut income to state colleges and universities by about $11.5 million, an amount which would need to be made up through general revenue funds.

Most severely cut were new capital appropriations ($47.7 million) and state contributions toward the University Retirement System ($46.8 million).

With Commended Unit

Technical Sergeant Guy E. Ray, of Mrs. Viola Ray, 2818 Cayuga St., is a member of the 437th Military Airlift Wing at Charleston AFB, S.C., which has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award for the fourth consecutive year.

Sergeant Ray, a flight engineer, will wear a distinctive service ribbon marking his affiliation with Military Airlift Command unit.

Sergeant Ray and his wife, the former Betty J. Bohannon, have three daughters: Debra, 14, Juanita, 11, and Patricia, 2.

Adequate financing for the junior college system was a prime concern of the study group in view of an anticipated 13.4% increase in tuition in full-time students next fall.

Included in the recommendation was $1 million for special assistance to junior college districts which have made exceptional local tax effort but lack sufficient assessed valuation on which to spread the local tax burden.

Salary increases for higher education personnel also were cut back by about $6 million to allow a 4.6% increase instead of the recommended 6% hike for academic personnel and 7.5% increase for non-academic personnel.

The study group also cut aid to private colleges and universities by $8.6 million in line with action taken by the House; cut back rentals to the Illinois Building Authority by $8.5 million; and reduced capital expenditures by $6.6 million and state scholarships by $5.5 million.

State Capitol Flag to Fly 24 Hours a Day

The American Flag will be flown 24 hours a day over the Illinois State Capitol following a directive issued by Secretary of State John W. Lewis Monday.

Secretary Lewis said "it is particularly appropriate that this practice was instituted today, which is our national Flag Day. This also follows the signing of a proclamation by Gov. Richard D. Ogilvie proclaiming the week of June 13-19 as Flag Week in Illinois."

In his proclamation, the Governor stated "Rippling in the breeze today, our Flag should inspire us with a love of country, of truth and justice and honor."

Flood lamps have been installed on the upper dome structure of the Capitol Building that will light the flag at night.

Secretary Lewis related that flying the flag 24 hours each day and lighting it at night is part of a program to enhance the state's Capitol. Plans are underway to light the entire east side of the building as well as providing additional lighting for the dome.

GOP Women Plan Government Forum

"Good Government by Working Within The System" will be the topic of a public forum at 7 p.m. Friday, June 25, at the Lewis and Clark restaurant in East Alton sponsored by the Lewis and Clark Republican Women.

Such questions as "What is Good Government?" "How Do We Get It?" and "What Can the Individual Do?" will be answered by a panel of four persons.

Panel members will be I. Dale Berman, Political Science instructor, Principia College; Linda Crockett, County Clerk, Jersey County, Jerseyville, Ill.; Rodger Elbe, township supervisor, Wood River Township, and Kathy Kolbee, director, Governor's Citizen's Involvement Committee.

A $3 smorgasbord dinner will precede the evening discussion. Reservations must be made by June 23. Tickets are available at Pulp's Drug Store in Wood River or by calling 377-8827.

'Fantastick' Auditions Set Monday at VFW Hall

Auditions for the summer production of the East Bank Players, the Quad-Cities' community theatre group, will be held Monday evening in the VFW clubrooms on Washington Avenue.

Announcement of the musical "The Fantasticks" as the play-ers next presentation was made at a recent general membership meeting of the theatrical group.

"The Fantasticks" holds the honor of being the longest running musical in New York history, beginning its 11th year of continuous production off-Broadway.

A well-known love story, the show requires only seven people in the cast, but features popular music such as "Soon It's Gonna Rain," "Try to Remember" and "Much More."

Those auditioning will be asked to sing a prepared selection, read assigned scenes and execute dance combinations.

Named as director of this production is Dick Peltz, last seen with the East Bank Players as Marcellus Washburn in "The Music Man". He is currently director of the Gifted Program in Creative Arts for the Caseyville schools, and was director of the Frohardt School Children's Theatre production of "Tom Sawyer".

Accompanist for the auditions and musical assistant will be Ron Matson of Granite City.

NYC Work Program Opens; Expect 85 to Participate

The fourth annual Neighborhood Youth Corps program sponsored by Mayor Donald Partney in cooperation with Coordinated Youth Services was initiated here Monday afternoon at a meeting in Neighborhoods United Methodist Church.

Mayor Partney spoke briefly to a group of NYC applicants who will participate in the work program this year. The youths, who come from families in low income brackets, are assigned to jobs with participating non-profit groups such as municipal, civic and church organizations.

The program provides the youths with an opportunity to earn money to enable them to remain in school, learn work skills and acquire experience for future employment.

Sixty-one youths are now enrolled in the program and applications will be accepted until the work force totals 85. The Coordinated Youth Services and the Neighborhood Youth Corps, under the U. S. Department of Labor, Manpower Administration, are supervising and financing the program.

Mayor Partney said the youths this year will earn $1.60 per hour during a nine-week program. In previous years they received $1.45 per hour in a ten-week program.

In addition to the city, which uses its NYC workers on various jobs ranging from clerical work to street department jobs, the youths will be assigned to jobs with St. Elizabeth Hospital, Kirkpatrick Homes, Boy Scouts, YMCA, Granite City Park District, the Nearby New Clothing Center operated by Church Women United, and a number of churches.

Information concerning the program may be obtained from Miss Flo Brown or Pete Carich, work advisors at Coordinator Youth Services, 1255 Niedringhaus Ave., phone 876-2383.
